

Caroline Bradley: CLIMATE FINANCE: SPRING 2023

COURSE MATERIALS: Class materials will be available from the class blog at <https://www.blenderlaw.com/climatefinance/> .

COURSE OBJECTIVE : The class will introduce you to specific issues in the relationship between climate change and finance. You will develop a greater understanding of specific issues relating to the climate and finance. The aim of the class is to understand the developing environment in which financial and non-financial businesses are operating with respect to issues of climate change and finance. Most of the materials for this seminar will be policy documents, regulations or proposed regulations, criteria for sustainable financial instruments etc rather than judicial decisions.

ASSESSMENT : A TAKEHOME FINAL EXAM

ATTENDANCE AT THE CLASS SESSIONS IS REQUIRED.

CLASS RECORDINGS

Students are expressly prohibited from recording any part of this course. Meetings of this course might be recorded by the University. Any recordings will be available to students registered for this class as they are intended to supplement the classroom experience. Students are expected to follow appropriate University policies and maintain the security of passwords used to access recorded lectures. Recordings may not be reproduced, shared with those not enrolled in the class, or uploaded to other online environments. If the instructor or a University of Miami office plans any other uses for the recordings beyond this class, students identifiable in the recordings will be notified to request consent prior to such use.
